Secretary Denney to Certify General Election Results

Boise, Idaho – Idaho Secretary of State Lawrence Denney and fellow members of Idaho's State Board of Canvassers, Idaho State Controller Brandon Woolf and Idaho State Treasurer Ron Crane, are scheduled to meet to certify the results of the November 6 General Election.

Each county clerk will forward an abstract of votes for all candidates for federal, state, and district offices to the secretary of state to be certified by the board. Immediately after the general election canvass, the secretary of state will issue certificates of election and provide an official statement of vote which will include a breakdown of votes cast. Serving as acting governor, Lieutenant Governor Brad Little will issue a proclamation declaring Proposition Two to be the law of the state of Idaho.

Secretary Denney will be available for questions following the official certification of the results.
